- Collecting, analyzing and interpreting data and information regarding economic and financial issues;
- Making economic and financial analysis at the level of the private and public entities/organizations;
- Execution of financial operations and transactions at the level of private and public entities;
- Implementation of plans and budgets at the level of private and public entities/organizations;
- Applying financial decisions at the level of private and public entities/organizations.

Transversal skills:

- Applying the principles, norms and values of professional ethics in their rigorous, efficient and responsible work strategy;
- Identifying roles and responsibilities in a pluri-specialized team and applying effective relationship and work techniques within the team;
- Identifying opportunities for lifelong learning and efficient use of learning resources and techniques for their own development.

2. ENSURING EDUCATION FLEXIBILITY. CONDITIONALITIES

The flexibility of the study programme is ensured by the elective, facultative and complementary disciplines.

Elective (optional) disciplines are offered in the semesters 3 to 6 and are grouped into optional packages that complement the student's specialization course. The choice of the professional path is made by the student, before the beginning of the academic year in which the semesters containing the packages of elective disciplines are included.

Facultative disciplines are proposed in the semesters 1 - 6 by the department or the faculty that manages the study programme, but they can also be chosen from packages offered by other faculties.
